Zakat

Impact Fund

Strategic donations with leveraged
long term returns for the community

We are pleased to share with you IFG's Zakat Impact Fund.

We do not charge any fees managing this fund.

These are our guiding principles:

1 Zakat Eligible

The Fund is a discretionary zakat fund verified by Sh Akram Nadwi as zakat-eligible ¹.

2 Core Poverty Relief

At least 15% of the Fund will be focused on traditional poverty relief in the UK and abroad. But we want to go further than giving hand-outs wherever possible (necessary though they are), and donate to projects that rise people out of poverty in a sustainable, permanent fashion.

3 High Impact Strategic Donations

85% of the Fund will be deployed into high-impact strategic donations. The recipients of these donations will change from time to time but they will be chosen based on the following principles:

- Is this a donation that will create a leveraged return? (e.g. a think tank that can unlock significantly greater returns based on what is successfully lobbied for, or a “catalyst role” that unlocks potential from hundreds of others)
- Is this an area that IFG can add specific expertise and guidance to?
- Is this an area that is otherwise neglected by other donors?

¹ Please note that if you follow certain narrower readings of zakat eligibility, you would regard only 15% of this Fund to be zakat eligible, so please adjust your donations accordingly.

We want to build a better world with your support. We have three goals:

1 Economic Empowerment

We help zakat-eligible individuals attend training and upskilling to get them started on a career or help them set up their own businesses to permanently climb out of poverty.

2 Ummah Strength

Global events have shown us starkly the Muslim weakness today. But it does not have to be this way. With the right legal, political, and intellectual moves, God's cause can be strengthened so that the Muslim position holds weight for everyone.

3 Affinity to Islam and Muslims

We will help usher in a day when Islam is honoured how it should be, and Muslims are looked up to with respect. When non-Muslims are warm to the promise of our great faith. When everyday folk find the light of Islam in their thousands.

Key results from the fund's previous year:

1 Economic Empowerment

- NZF: Funds have been deployed to support 140 individuals into approved training and development pathways, including vocational courses and skills-based learning aligned with realistic employment opportunities and financial stability.
- FIG: Increased funding from 4 to 16 social ventures, allowing them to scale their operations and impact. Grew total funding from £386k to £1.2m.
- Powell House: Supported housing costs of high potential poor founders looking to start a business in Silicon Valley.

2 Ummah Strength

- Islamophobia Response Unit (IRU): Assisted 400+ victims of Islamophobia with legal aid, securing key settlements (£25k+ and advancing policy discussions with the Policy, NHS, Barnardos and more).
- The Muslim Vote (TMV): Secured access to the marked register across 17 key target seats, giving TMV data on turnout for over 500,000 muslim voters nationwide. Active local council preparations. Mentioned multiple times in Parliament. Strengthened ties publicly and privately with values-aligned political parties.
- Muslim Council for Britain: Ran a Town Hall programme supporting Vision 2050, engaging communities representing 4m people (6% of the UK).
- Funded research report on the BBC bias over coverage of Palestine genocide.

3 Affinity to Islam and Muslims

- Equi: Delivered 10 solutions-focused research reports since their foundation. This data is used to inform senior decision-makers and strengthen national debate with clear evidence on public value. They are leading vital research which serves to rebalance the public narrative around British Muslims' often overlooked contributions.

These are the unprecedented results that impactful strategic giving can achieve in 1 year with £594,000 (including Gift Aid).

You - our donors did this.

£594,000 is just ~ 0.03% of total UK Muslim donations in 2025.

Help us now accelerate these results this year.

Reflections From Last Year

- Equi continued to build strong momentum, maturing into a more established, credible platform with clearer positioning and stronger execution.
- Islamophobia Response Unit became noticeably more robust and stable, with improved operational resilience, consistent grant-winning, and establishing an in-house employment law team.
- Funders in Good maintained its positive trajectory and made steady progress across its initiatives; with its influence and standard-setting felt across the UK charitable sector.
- Riba Free Foundation matured nicely and made significant contributions uniting the Islamic Finance industry and chaired the APPG for Islamic Finance securing ministerial meetings.

Self-Critical Reflections & Plan Going Forward

- We were uncomfortable that a lot of economic empowerment ended up happening with asylum seekers. A portion is fine, but not all. We have accordingly specified that tightly with the new NZF funding agreement.
- We were also keen to stress to our partners that we would like regular quarterly updates, in a format that we have pre-agreed prior to deployment. This is a condition of funding going forward.
- The Muslim Vote continued to do excellent work on the ground. However, we have focused our renewed mandate with them around data capture and hiring strategic advisors and/or leadership with additional experience in the field as this was where there was weakness.
- As we have scaled, we noted the importance of improved governance and radical transparency. Accordingly you will see a substantially beefed up governance section later on in this deck, and a radical transparency page at the end.

Leveraged donations go further

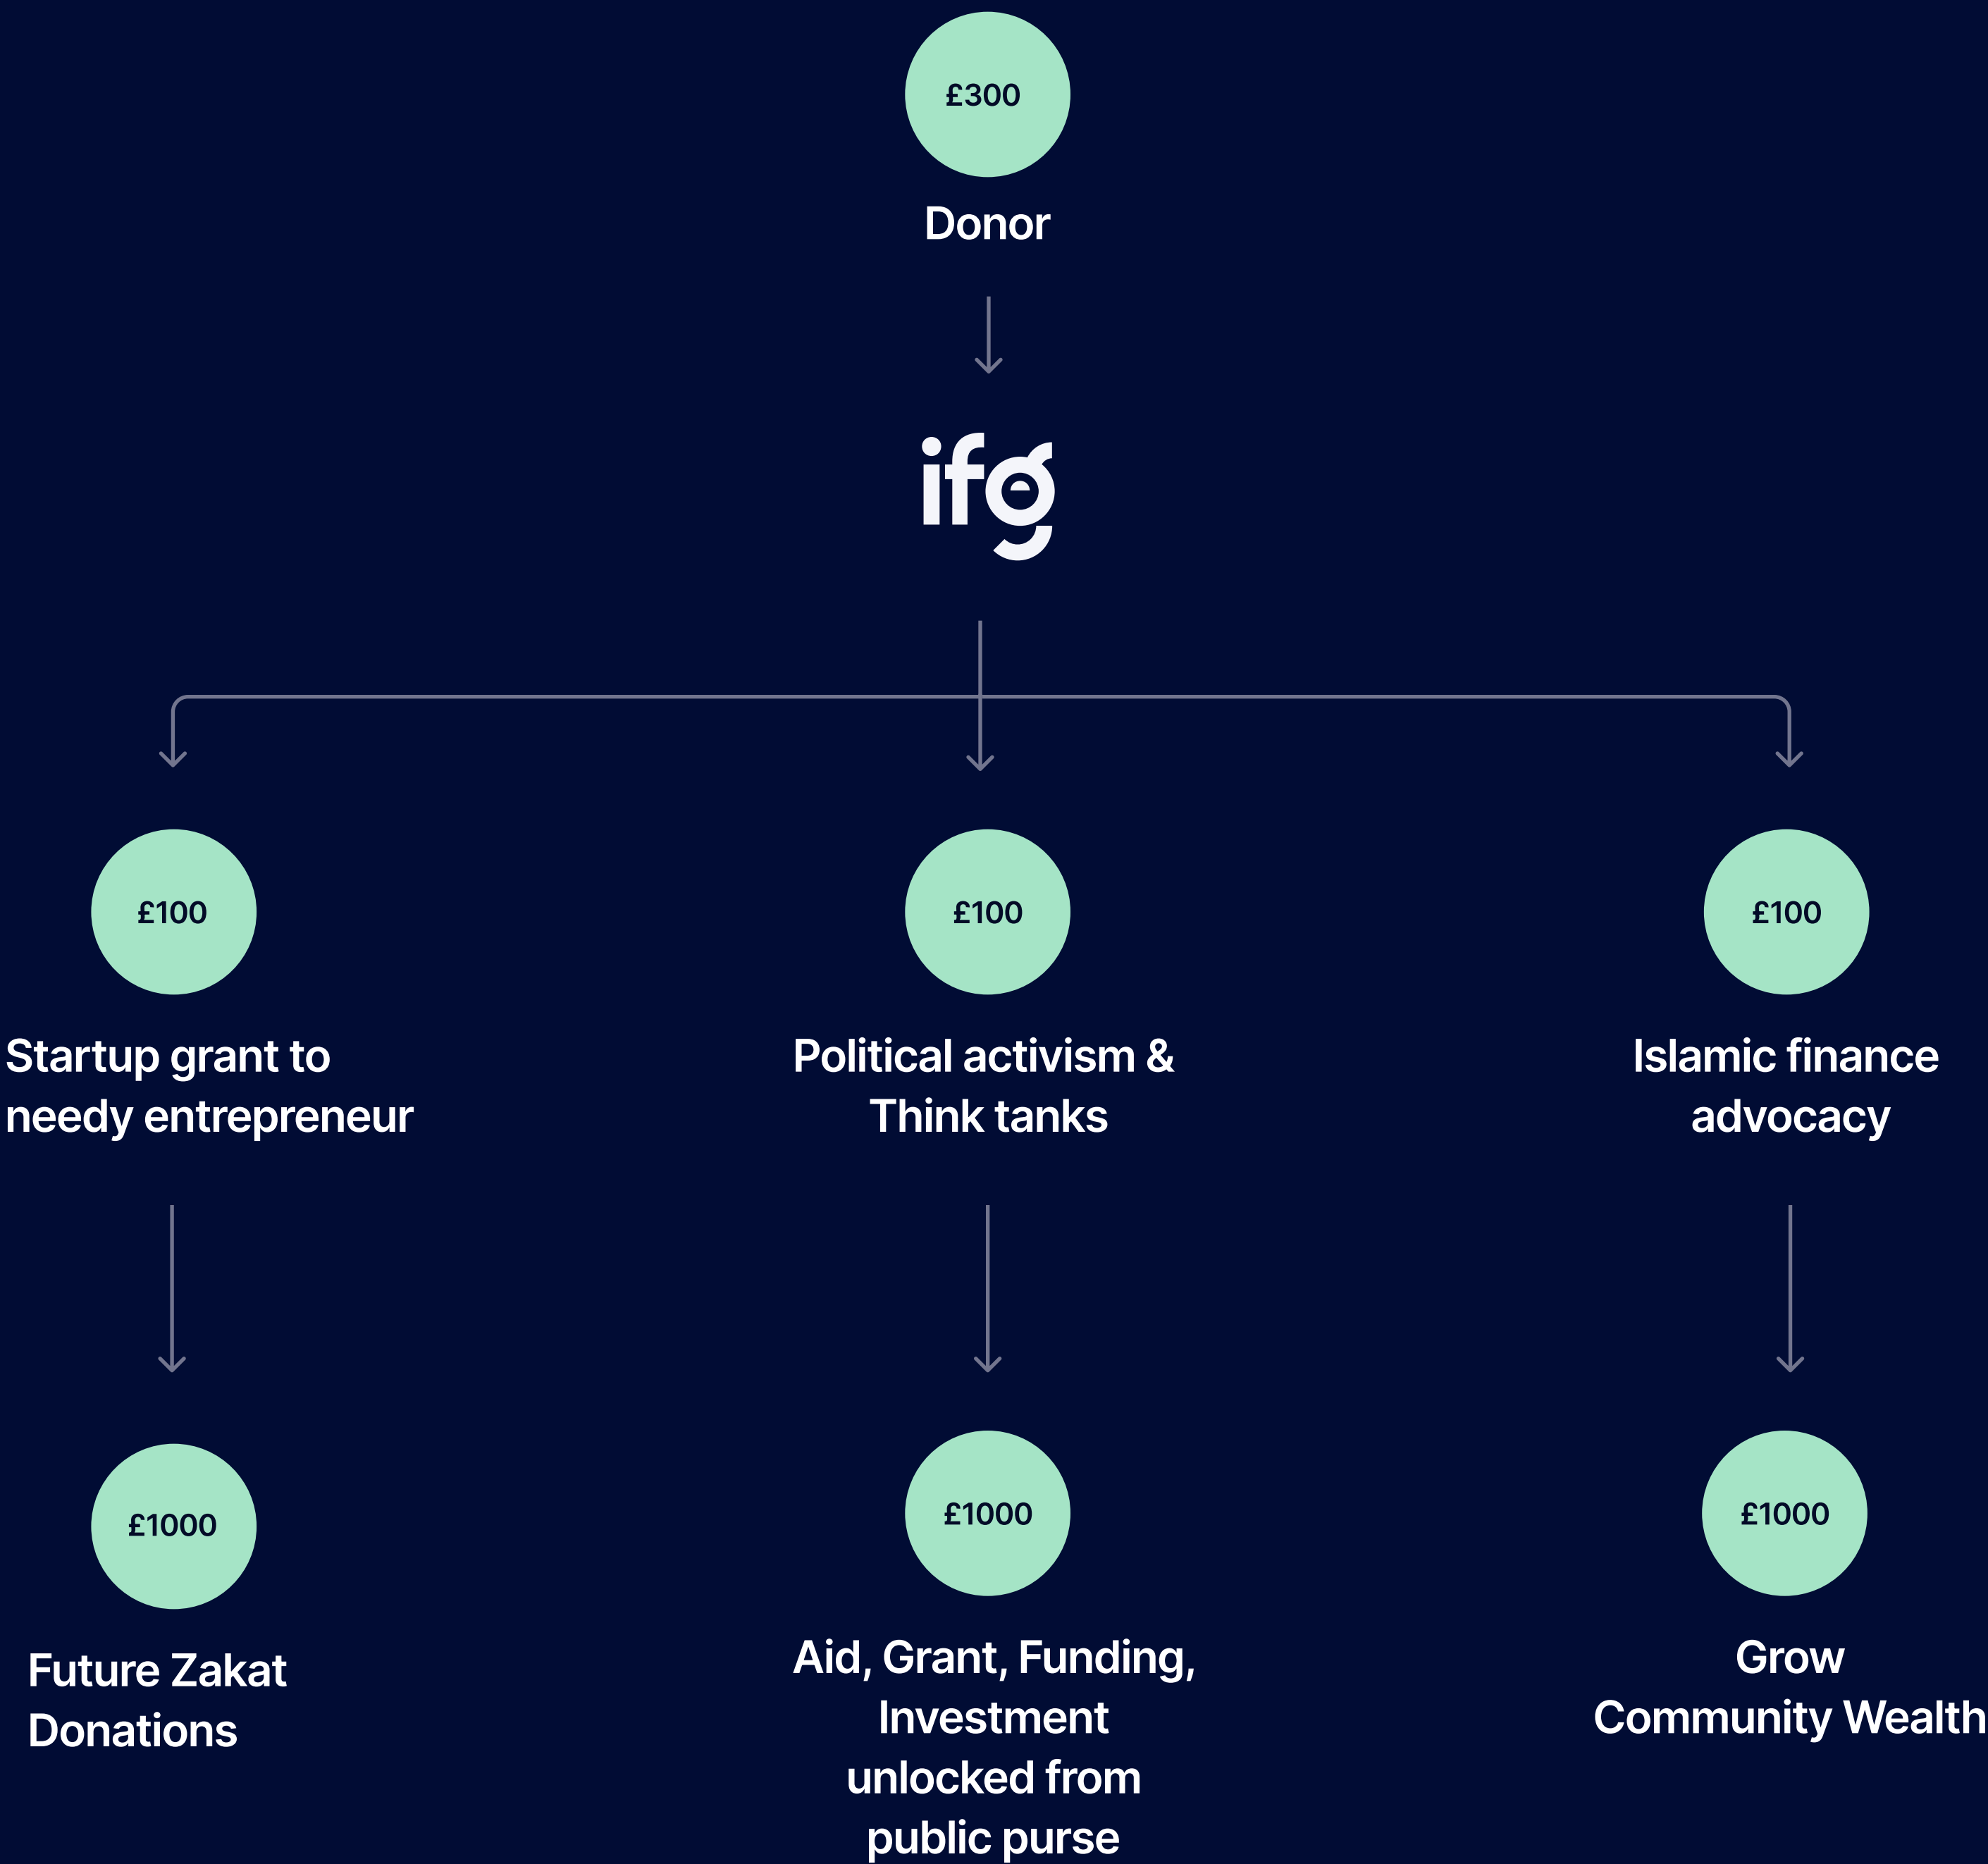

We think zakat on poverty alleviation is incredibly important - but we need to go beyond that as well. When we do this well, we get leveraged returns as a community.

Normal donation

(& we still need a lot of this)

How funds are delegated and managed

01

Call for Applications

The Fund invites applications from eligible organisations aligned with its mandate and zakat policy. Applicants submit proposals outlining their activities, outcomes, and zakat eligibility.

02

Screening & Assessment

Applications are screened for eligibility, alignment, governance strength, and delivery capability. Due diligence ensures organisations are able to deliver measurable impact.

03

Board Assessment

Committee reviews applications and makes recommendations based on impact and strategic fit. Final approval is provided by the Board of Trustees, ensuring oversight and accountability.

04

MoU Execution

Approved organisations enter into a formal agreement setting out funding terms and reporting requirements. Funds are released in stages, linked to agreed milestones and ongoing monitoring.

Fund Principles

- The Fund will look to back initiatives for the long term. We will try to follow our money over a multi-year timeframe.
- The Fund will look to take advisory positions wherever possible to help provide steer and oversight to the project. It is the intention of the Fund to be an active supporter rather than a passive donor.
- The Fund will initially take no administration fee but anticipates that as the Fund grows over time, it will eventually need to take a small administration fee. We will always be completely transparent about this.
- The Fund will always allocate a portion of its pot towards simple poverty alleviation, and once the Fund grows to over £20m per annum, 25% of the allocation will be to poverty alleviation.

Decision Making Process

- Our grant decisions are guided by a robust, transparent, and sharia-compliant process overseen by the Trustees of the charity.
- Proposals are carefully assessed for strategic alignment with the Fund's long-term outcomes, clear Zakat eligibility, measurable impact, and strong governance. Applications are reviewed by experienced staff and a Grants Committee, with due diligence conducted to proportionately assess financial, operational, and reputational risk.
- Final funding decisions rest with the Trustees, who consider a consolidated briefing of recommended causes ahead of Ramadan and formally approve allocations in line with the Fund's Zakat Policy and charitable objects.
- Every grant is documented, monitored, and reported on to ensure Zakat is deployed with integrity, accountability, and maximum long-term benefit for the charity's beneficiaries and the Ummah at large.

Sharia Methodology

The fund will always adhere to guidelines set by Shaykh Akram Nadwi on eligible zakat recipients.

Economic Empowerment & Poverty Relief Pot

25% of the Fund will be focused on economic empowerment and poverty relief for zakat-eligible individuals and as such is accepted by all scholarly traditions as zakat.

Strategic Pot

75% of the Fund will avail of all zakat categories, particularly “reconciliation of the hearts”, “in the cause of God”, the poor and the needy.

Whilst we anticipate some of the strategic pot will allocated to donations to the poor and needy, for prudence where an individual follows a narrower reading of zakat eligibility they should treat only 15% of the Fund as zakat-eligible.

funders in good

Funders in Good: The natural partner to magnify our donations

Who are FIG?

- FIG is a faith-based, venture philanthropy fund. Venture philanthropy is a high-engagement and long-term approach to giving that helps organisations maximise their social impact.
- FIG explain their vision as “a society in which commitment to God is flourishing, underpinned by highly effective social ventures”.

Why are we partnering with them?

- Donations should not be a black box—where money is given and disappears without clarity on its impact. Instead, donations should be more than just money. They should come with support, strategy, and follow-up to ensure they achieve real, lasting results.
- Think of traditional donations like pouring water into a sieve—money flows in, but much of it leaks out due to inefficiencies, lack of oversight, and short-term thinking. Without follow-up and capacity-building, many donations fail to reach their full potential.
- FIG acts as the plugs in the sieve, systematically closing the gaps through:
 - ✓ Strategic funding – ensuring money goes where it has the highest impact.
 - ✓ Capacity-building – supporting organisations beyond just funding, helping them grow.
 - ✓ Ongoing oversight – tracking progress, refining strategies, and making sure donations achieve the intended results.
- With FIG, every pound is maximised, nurtured, and monitored—turning short-term giving into long-term, transformative change.

Reviving the Islamic Obligation to Excel in Science & Technology

Who are ITKAN?

- ITKAN Institute of Technology is a community-led, tuition-free nonprofit focused on expanding access to STEM education, with a strong emphasis on robotics and engineering. Their work is rooted in serving young people, particularly from underrepresented Muslim communities, by giving them practical technical skills vital for this era.
- At its core, ITKAN exists to make high-quality STEM education accessible outside of traditional school systems, allowing students to learn by building and doing rather than passively consuming content.

Why are we partnering with them?

- ITKAN is also deliberately community-powered. Parents are trained and involved as coaches, and volunteers and mentors play an active role in delivery. This model allows programmes to scale sustainably while remaining rooted in the communities they serve.
- The impact of ITKAN's work is visible in both reach and outcomes. What began as a small initiative has grown into multiple chapters across different regions, serving large numbers of students through ongoing STEM programmes. ITKAN teams regularly participate in and succeed at recognised robotics competitions, demonstrating strong technical standards and effective coaching.
- Beyond competitions, ITKAN has built a reputation for developing confident, motivated young people who are better prepared for further education and careers in science and technology. Their students gain early exposure to problem-solving, engineering thinking, and collaborative work, which often translates into long-term academic and personal growth.

Unlocking the Potential of Faith-Based Charitable Giving

Who are EQUI?

- Equi is a UK-based public policy think tank focused on producing ethical research, analysis, and policy recommendations on issues affecting British society. Their work draws on insight from Muslim communities and broader civic experience to inform debates on social, economic and cultural challenges facing the country.
- Strengthening UK public policy through ethically-driven research and strategic engagement that builds on British Muslim lived experiences and contributions, to help build a more prosperous and socially cohesive nation for all its citizens.

Why are we partnering with them?

- Equi's impact lies in how they operate upstream of change. Rather than delivering services directly, they focus on shaping the environment in which decisions are made by policymakers, regulators, and opinion-formers.
- Equi provides credible, data-driven research that helps policymakers and institutions understand the scale and value of faith-motivated civic contribution, ensuring these efforts are not overlooked or undervalued in public decision-making.
- Established themselves as a reputable outfit for data concerning the British Muslim community. They have convened high-level political & stakeholder engagement to put findings directly in front of decision-makers, including the launch of their Youth Violence report being attended by the Home Secretary and Health Secretary.
- Their work has received recognition by the Prime Minister's offices, citations by MPs, and strengthened relationships with officials across DfE, DCMS and MHCLG; with the MD contributing to the Deputy PM Working Group on defining Islamophobia and serving on the Independent Commission on Community and Cohesion.
